Two Others Injured as Pilots Battle Storm.

KEPNER VICTOR
Lightning Strikes One Bag; Another Crashes.

PITTSBURGH, May 31.—The army balloon No. 1 landed at Weems, Virginia, at 6:10 a. m., according to a telegram received at the National elimination balloon races headquarters here today.

The army No. 1 was the only bag to remain aloft after storm forced the thirteen other entries down, and thus wins the race.

PITTSBURGH, May 31.—Believed to be drifting southeastward over southern Pennsylvania, the Army No. 1, sole entry in the National elimination balloon races to weather a storm which sent two men to their deaths and injury to two others today appeared the winner in the ill-fated contest which began before a crowd of more than 120,000 persons at Bettis field, McKeesport, late yesterday.

Forced Down By Storm.
Reports that the balloon was believed sighted over Conneville, Pa., 75 miles southeast of here, after midnight, indicated that Capt. W. E. Kepner, pilot and Lieut. Eareckson, aide, are winners of the race, since the others were forced down after a few hours' struggle as first lightning, rain and fog.

Lieut. Paul Evert, pilot of army balloon No. 2, was killed when the bag was struck by lightning over Youngwood, Pa., while Walter W. Morton, aide to P. W. Van Orman, pilot of the Goodyear V, sustained fatal injuries when the balloon crashed at Irwin, Pa.

Lieut. Van Orman sustained a broken leg, while J. F. Cooper, aide to the City of Cleveland, was severely shocked when the bag was struck by lightning. Carl K. Wollam, pilot of the City of Cleveland, escaped.

COOLIDGE WILL GO WEST AGAIN FOR VACATION

Summer White House Established Near Superior, Wis.

LEAVES JUNE 11

WASHINGTON, May 31.—President Coolidge is going west again for his summer vacation.

The summer white house will be established this year on the Henry Clay Pierce estate, 35 miles from Superior, Wis., it was announced today. The estate, known as "Cedar Island lodge," is on the Brule river. Executive offices will be maintained in Superior.

President Coolidge plans to leave Washington shortly after June 11 when he addresses the business organization of the government.

Last year the president spent his vacation in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Plenty of Fishing.
Cedar Island lodge is in the heart of the picturesque Wisconsin lake region and will afford the president ample opportunity to pursue his favorite summer pastime of fishing. It is only 12 hours by train from Chicago.

For weeks a white house representative has been inspecting the various estates offered to Mr. Coolidge for the summer. They ranged from the eastern seaboard to the middle west, the Rockies and the Pacific coast. The Pierce estate appealed most strongly to the president and he decided upon it after listening to the lures and advantages of the other offers.

The president plans to motor almost daily between the summer white house and the offices in Superior to conduct federal business. He did this last year between the Black Hills and Rapid City.

The estate is owned by the heirs of the late Henry Clay Pierce, wealthy oil man.

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, OAKLAND, Cal., May 31.—On the first lap of an attempt to link the continents of North America and Australia by air the giant silver winged monoplane Southern Cross with four men aboard hopped off today for Honolulu.

Under perfect weather conditions, the takeoff was made at 8:49 a. m.

The giant Fokker carried its crew of four intrepid airmen and a load of 1,200 gallons of gasoline down the historic runway here and lifted its seven tons of weight from the ground to follow the Pacific air trail blazed by Lieutenants Lester Matland and Albert Hegenberger.

The flight to Australia, if successful, will be the longest trans-oceanic flight in history.

Kingsford-Smith Pilot.
The powerful plane was piloted on the take-off by Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australian war ace, and carried Charles T. P. Ulm, flight manager and relief pilot, Captain Harry Lyons, navigator, and James W. Warner, radio man.

They will be guided over the Pacific from Oakland to Hawaii by the army's radio beacon at Crissy field, which had the army fliers in their historic flight and Arthur Goebel in the Dole race.

WORLD PEACE PLEA VOICED IN MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESSES

Dr. W. O. Hawkins and Father Gracey Speak.

500 IN PARADE

W. H. Vodrey Master of Ceremonies at Cemetery.

A plea for world peace was voiced in Memorial Day exercises here yesterday by Rev. E. J. Gracey, pastor of Wellsville's Immaculate Conception Catholic church and former army chaplain, and Dr. Warren O. Hawkins, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. They delivered addresses at union services in Riverview cemetery following a street parade of Civil, Spanish-American and World War veterans.

More than 500 marchers and scores of automobiles and trucks took part in the parade. Three bands—Salvation Army, Ceramic and Professor Alexander's Italian musicians—played martial airs for the marchers.

Harry R. Thompson was chief marshal, while Homer Campbell, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and William S. Foulks, head of East Liverpool Post No. 4, American Legion, were his assistants.

Three-Division Parade.
The procession, headed by a squad of police, formed in East Fourth street and Broadway and moved promptly at 2 o'clock. Then came the Civil War and the Salvation Army band followed by the colors of General Lyon post, No. 44, Grand Army of the Republic, carried by members of the post. Next in line came members of General Garfield camp, No. 3, Sons of Veterans, a contingent of auxiliary members carrying flags and automobiles with speakers and other honored guests.

The second division was headed by Prof. Alexander's band, followed by the masses of colors of Private Eddy post, No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and East Liverpool post, No. 4, American Legion. Then came a combined firing squad of the two posts, after which marched a delegation of Spanish-American and World War veterans, the majority of them in uniform. Many of the marchers wore the regulation cap of the American Legion.

Services at Cemetery.
The third division was headed by the Ceramic City band and representatives of 14 Boy Scout troops in this division were also members of the degree team of East Liverpool's aerial No. 457, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and a delegation of lodge members.

Five of the city's fire trucks brought up the rear of the procession. Despite the threatening weather the exercises which were conducted at Riverview cemetery were attended by a large crowd. Members of the G. A. R., speakers and other guests were seated in a canvas-covered tent which was erected through the courtesy of the Riverview cemetery association.

Ten Masked Men Rob 200 Guests of Jewelry and Currency in Indianapolis Country Club.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31.—Twenty masked bandits early today held up the Roadmoor Country club and robbed 200 guests of jewelry and currency valued at between $150,000 and $200,000.

The victims were prominent citizens of Indianapolis and their out-of-town guests, here to attend the auto races. The holiday festivities at the exclusive club were in full swing when the bandits trooped in like a squad of well-trained soldiers.

They were equipped with sub-machine guns, sawed-off shotguns and revolvers.

The guests were ordered to line up against the wall. When a few of the men objected a volley of shots roared over their heads and they quickly fell in line.

Robbers Take up "Collection."
With the fashionably-gowned women and men in evening clothes lined along two sides of the spacious ballroom, the bandit leader asked for their attention and gave the following orders:

"Drop your money and jewels in the canvass bag that will be passed down the line!"

While nine of the bandits stood menacingly with firearms leveled, the tenth bandit went down the line with the canvass bag and took up the "collection." Here and there a woman fainted, but nothing was allowed to interfere with the orderly progress of the robbery.

WATKINS LAD RUN DOWN AT CITY LINE BY ROBERT COLE

Fatal Accident Occurs as Youth Crosses Road.

SKULL FRACTURED

Victim is Son of George Watkins of La Croft.

Ralph, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Watkins, La Croft, was killed when struck by a milk truck driven by Robert Cole, 25, near Crawford's Corners, while crossing the Lincoln highway at La Croft shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. His skull was fractured.

Steps in Path of Truck.
Cole, who was enroute to East Liverpool with a load of milk, claimed that the Watkins lad stepped directly from behind one truck into the path of his machine, traveling at about 20 miles an hour.

The body was removed to the Miller funeral parlor where Coroner J. M. Van Fossan will conduct an inquest this afternoon.

Watkins was employed by Lewis Morris, dairyman of the Lincoln Highway district, in making deliveries to Pleasant Heights and La Croft. The Morris truck, headed north, had stopped on the right side of the road and the Watkins boy, carrying a gallon bucket started across the road as the Cole machine approached. Cole said the boy was within about five feet of the truck when he first saw him.

Driver Reports Accident.
The Watkins lad was knocked to the street, between the wheels of Cole's truck which carried two tons of milk in five and 10-gallon cans.

Dr. A. L. Turner, Pleasant Heights who reached the scene five minutes later, pronounced the boy dead. Captain Mason Conley made an investigation of the accident.

Cole brought his truck to the Crocker City Ice & Products company's plant, West Eighth street, then went to the police headquarters where he made a report of the accident. He was released on his own recognizance.

Cole resides on what is known as the "Roller Coaster" road, about a mile north of the Crawford filling station near West Point.

Death Trap Blonde.

Some Said Print It.

She Tired of Seeing Him.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are solely those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.)

THE headline writer finds new inspiration, "Death Trap Blonde," and it's in Cyrus H. K. Curtis' paper, not in a raging tabloid. The mysterious blonde, white, of course, "trapped" a Negro politician in New York.

HE drove away with her to an uptown address, and when he got out, a white man, stepping from behind the taxi, shot him to death. The death trap blonde vanished, the police are puzzled and the victim leaves a fortune. Even the White will admit that the story is new, in crime.

ENGLAND is observing the three hundredth anniversary of John Bunyan's birth. On November 25 "Bunyan Sunday" will be celebrated throughout the world. Nearly three centuries have passed since the humble tinker, locked in jail and compelled to meditate with leisure to write, gave "Pilgrim's Progress" to the world, doubting and hesitating.

Some said, John, print it; others said, not so.

Some said, it might do good; others said No.

PUBLISHERS thought that only servants and others ignorant, could possibly want the ignorant peddler's simple book and the only edition printed, at first, was bound in paper for a penny. You couldn't buy a copy of that first edition now for a thousand pounds. Sometimes, simple things outlast others, more showy.

SENATOR GOFF AND AL SMITH WIN IN WEST VIRGINIA

HOOVER. REED TRAIL IN RACE FOR PRESIDENT

Hatfield Defeats Gore for Senatorial Place.

CONLEY VICTOR

Taylor-Hogg Fight for Dem Nomination Close.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 31.—Senator Guy D. Goff, favorite son candidate, and Gov. Al Smith of New York apparently have won the Republican and Democratic preference vote in the West Virginia primary with three-fourths of the results tabulated. Out of 1,899 of the 2,306 precincts, Goff was today leading Secretary of Commerce Hoover by approximately 7,000 votes for the 19 delegates to the Republican convention at Kansas City. Smith's lead over Senator James A. Reed of Missouri was approximately 6,500 in the same precincts for the 16 Democratic delegates. Ex-Gov. H. D. Hatfield has scored a 2 to 1 victory over Gov. Howard M. Gore for the Republican senatorial nomination. William G. Conley has a 3 to 1 margin over Roy Waugh for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

The Democratic gubernatorial nomination race was close, with Ex-Representative J. Alfred Taylor leading Dr. Gory Hogg.

Observers do not believe Hoover will be able to overcome the lead amassed thus far by Goff. The latter was running well in the populous sections, with Hoover showing his greatest strength in the farm districts which are dry. The prohibition issue was raised against Goff and this is believed to have caused the rural communities to swing to Hoover.

Counting of the complicated ballots, some of which contained as many as 400 names, has settled down to an endurance test for election board officials. They have been able to catch only winks of sleep since the returns started trickling in Tuesday night.

Oscar O. Allison, Chester, won the Democratic nomination for sheriff over John Yoho of New Cumberland. The vote was Allison 375, Yoho 119.

Chester and Rock Springs park precincts gave Hoover a lead over Goff of 471 votes. Ingram outran Hoffman here by 392, while Jackson defeated Evans by 356. ### VALUE OF EDUCATION STRESSED

BY DR. J. LINWOOD EISENBERG

Twenty-five Midland High School graduates receive diplomas at commencement exercises.

MIDLAND, Pa., May 31.—Value of elementary and high school education was stressed by Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg, president of Slippery Rock State Teachers' college, in addressing 25 graduates and their friends and relatives at Lincoln high commencement exercises Tuesday night.

He declared that the worth of high school education to a pupil would be $50 a day if it could be reduced to such figures.

Rev. C. W. Cochran, pastor of the Presbyterian church, delivered the invocation.

Miss Kathryn Bream and Thomas Laughlin, first and second honor students, delivered valedictory and salutatory addresses. Following orchestra numbers and the commencement address by Dr. Eisenberg, G. B. Newcomer, school board president, awarded diplomas.

After formal graduation services in the school auditorium, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bream, parents of Miss Kathryn Bream, first honor student, entertained members of the graduating class at their home in Penn. avenue.

Music, dancing and games were discussed.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25¢ today at the nearest Rexall Drug store.

Community Celebration

Holiday patronage on railroad and trolley lines out of East Liverpool was decreased, while incoming traffic showed an increase over past years, judging from crowds that visited Rock Springs park, in Chester, and taxed seating capacities in the theatres here yesterday, thus proving the wisdom of a union observance of Memorial Day by the Grand Army of the Republic, Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion and their auxiliaries.

The Ceramic City program, in which, thanks to the initiative of Mayor Ralph C. Benedum and others, veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars, for the first time, joined hands in paying homage to the soldier, sailor and marine dead, assumed the form of a community celebration.

And the people of the East Liverpool and neighboring cities, silently approving the action of the soldier organizations, turned out in large numbers to witness the street parade and attend the exercises at Riverview cemetery. In bygone years scores of those on the side lines had gone to other cities because the home town had not arranged a holiday program that appealed to them.

With such a start, why not devise ways and means of arranging appropriate celebrations of Fourth of July, Labor Day and Armistice Day?

Police Methods Hit

George W. Martin, a New York lawyer, writes interesting in the Forum for June regarding the plight in which the ordinary citizen—innocent or guilty—finds himself when placed under arrest. Assuming that his statement of facts is correct, he offers an awful indictment of the methods pursued by the police and prosecutors' departments of the larger cities and possibly in many cities of lesser size.

"Let us consider the position of one accused of a serious crime—particularly if the crime is notorious, or represented by the tabloid newspapers as having a dash of sex in it," Mr. Martin says in part. "If you are a widow, like Mrs. Hall, you may expect to be arrested by state troopers at midnight—although the crime is two years old—and locked in a cell; or taken forcibly to the scene and compelled to participate in a rehearsal of the event. But if you are a mere man, your position is far more parlous. If the police are ordinary police, you will be interrogated, howled at, and threatened by relays of detectives for thirty-six hours continuously without food, sleep, or access to a toilet. If you do not sign the confession which has been drawn up in writing, you will then be beaten with a hose or a blackjack. Under this treatment, a perfectly innocent school teacher in Chicago, confessed to the murder of which Messrs. Leopold and Loeb were afterward convicted. If you have the ill luck to be a Chinaman—as in a recent case reviewed by the supreme court of the United States—the torture may be expected to continue for seven days and nights. If you are well-advised, you sign any confession offered at once, and put your trust in a jury.

"In any case, you are then thrown in jail to rot while the district attorney gives interviews to the press and scours the countryside for evidence and witnesses, the police rehearse their parts, and your wounds get less conspicuous; for it would never do to let you come into the courtroom in your present state. Meanwhile your confession is published, and every one except your lawyers is perfectly sure you are guilty."

It's an awful thought that human beings are treated, as Attorney Martin here holds out, in the name of law and justice, and yet many cases of such treatment of persons placed under arrest, and persons subsequently proved innocent, have been established. There is probably not a great city, great as a population center, in the land, whose record has not been blackened by such proceedings as set out in this Forum article.

For the last year or two we have been seeing much in type, and not without good cause, of the protection afforded by police and court officials to the guilty. It is time that we are seeing more in type, as well, about the protection of the innocent from police and court officials. And even the guilty, as this Forum writer intimates, should not be made to undergo the brutalities to which they often are compelled to submit. Not only our criminal laws, but the methods pursued by the police and prosecutors of our great population centers as well as in need of correction.

For The Corner-Stone

In a corner-stone laid the other day were placed several packages of flower seeds with a request that the successors of the present people plant them when they remove that stone, 50 or 100 years hence. It is a pleasant thing to imagine the second or third or fourth generation growing flowers from those seeds, as a memorial of the givers.

Nobody seems to have thought of putting in a horned toad.

If it wouldn't be impertinent, we'd like to see some group of corner-stone layers deposit an ordinary frog along with the other relics. Put him in not loose, but encased in clay, like an amphibian hibernating in the mud at the bottom of a pond. There are traditions of frogs being dug up in that form, still alive, from strata far below the surface, apparently millions of years old. The experiment might be tried, at least, in the corner stone of a scientific library or natural history museum.

International Tunnels

Not satisfied with ferries and bridges between the two countries where water divides them, Americans and Canadians are planning tunnels. It is significant of the new transportation age that these are to be not railroad tunnels but motor car tunnels.

Stock is being offered in a company organized to build such a tunnel under the Detroit river, between Detroit and Windsor, near the site of a big bridge whose erection has just begun. There is a similar tunnel projected across the St. Clair river between Port Huron and Sarnia. When these are accomplished facts, need may be felt for a tunnel across the Niagara river at Buffalo, alongside the new Peace bridge dedicated only last year.

France and Great Britain have talked of a tunnel under the channel for many years, but haven't yet been able to make up their minds that's safe from military perils.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—If the old adage that an apple a day keeps the doctor away is to be relied upon, there should be a boom in the apple market for typical Americans are spending approximately six per cent of their annual earnings for medical attention. This has been brought out by a survey just completed by the bureau of labor statistics. The bureau used its own large staff as the basis of the survey, regarding the results as representative for clerical workers generally, because the bureau staff includes practically all classes of employees from messengers to expert economists and statisticians.

What further is brought out by the survey is that the more a man earns the more he will pay for medical attention. This may mean that the better paid employee uses his money to indulge in more activities deleterious to health or it may mean that the poorer paid workers manage to get along without medical attention when they actually need it. The question is not answered in the bureau's report on its survey.

Nevertheless, the figures are quite eloquent. In a salary group of workers earning less than $2000 a year, the sum of $98.92 annually is paid for medical services on an average basis. In the group between $2000 and $3000 the figure rises to $146.13 a year while those receiving more than $3000 pay $196.63 for such services, or more than twice as much as the lowest salary group. For all the employees the average salary is $1952.63 and the average amount paid per year for medical services is stated as $122.72.

Although the lower salaried groups paid out less in money for medical services, they paid higher percentages of their incomes, the survey shows. The lowest salary group paid 6.2 per cent of annual salary, the middle group, 6.3 per cent, while the highest salaried group paid only 5.5 per cent.

All these figures necessarily represent averages. If individual cases were to be taken it would be seen that some persons paid out more than a third of their year's salary for medical services. Many paid one-tenth.

While there are many unmarried employees in the bureau there also are many with families. On the basis of the survey, the cost of family medical service is seen to mount rapidly. The bureau states that it reads from the statistics compiled that the cost of medical services annually for a family of four would be $350 on an average while a family of five would cost $430.

The United States government is generous in the matter of what is known as sick leave. From ten to thirty days out of each year are allowed employees during which time there is no deduction from salary. The various departments decide the length of such leave. This may be taken a day or two at a time or perhaps all consumed in one illness. On top of the sick leave there is the annual leave or vacation during which salary continues. Therefore, in case of a prolonged illness and convalescence the government worker knows that he has sick leave plus vacation in which to be ill without stoppage of income.

The bureau reaches the conclusion, as the result of its survey, that many employees, particularly those in the lower salaried classes, postpone or neglect medical attention until it is absolutely imperative. Often something akin to tragedy stalks the low paid government employee with a numerous family. Childish illnesses usually are treated with the simplest home remedies and with patent medicines. Serious illnesses, not infrequently proving fatal, are allowed to drag along without skilled treatment because of the prohibitive costs.

The varying amounts paid for medical services show also that there always will be some people who will call in a doctor whether or not he actually is needed, provided they can afford it. It is the old story of those who "enjoy poor health."

Q. Which states prohibit the teaching of Evolution in the schools? T. D.

A. Mississippi, Tennessee, and Florida prohibit the teaching of Evolution in the schools. Mississippi and Tennessee provide a penalty for disobedience of the law. Louisiana has not state legislation against it but the state superintendent of schools had issued an order which prohibits teaching that subject in the public schools. Oklahoma had such a law, but it has been repealed.

Q. Who was the last survivor of the American Revolutionary War? M. G.

A. It is probably correct to say that John Gray, who died March 29, 1868, aged 104 years, 2 months, 23 days, was the last surviving soldier of the American Revolution. He is buried in Caldwell, Ohio. On his tombstone is the inscription, "The last of Washington's companions."

Q. How are arrangements made for foreigners to study at West Point? H. T. V.

A. Foreign governments are permitted to choose representatives of their countries who wish to receive instruction at the United States Military Academy. These governments make special requests to the Congress of the United States. Congress by special act can provide for the graduation of such foreigners. These men, however, do not receive a commission in the United States Army.

Q. In stock market parlance, what are "cats and dogs"? N. E. S.

A. The term is applied to worthless or poor securities.

Q. How many miles of telegraph and telephone wire are in use in the United States? I. C.

A. There are 2,035,000 miles of telegraph lines in the United States, and 52,200,000 miles of telephone wire.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, May 31.—There is little doubt the champion Gene Tunney has proved himself a conspicuous social success this season, not only in New York, but in Florida. He has frequently told intimates he cares nothing for the popularity of the mob.

"The one thing I do not want," he once told me, "is popularity." And he has shown a stubborn resistance to trucking to backslappers. The doors of the most aristocratic homes have been opened to him. He has been a guest at dinners to which social climbers have vainly sought bids for years.

Those who have seen him at these gatherings say no one present is more at home. His hosts and hostesses have not been those who go out to bag every new celebrity who appears on the horizon. It is no exaggeration to say he has mingled with what society scribblers often term "the social creme de la creme."

Few men have been able to achieve the sartorial opulence of Tunney in a dinner jacket or full dress. His hand goes naturally to the right fork or spoon, he is adept at polite but inconsequential small talk as well as discussing topics in a higher realm. He is even tolerant with those who call him "Mr. Tunney."

His taste for literature has not been stressed. He was, long before he became champion, a keen admirer of Keats and Shelley. He has drunk deep of good literature and discusses it more entertainingly than he does when talk turns to prize fighting.

His enemies have tried to magnify these traits into proportions of snobbery, but the truth seems to be he has done exactly what pleased him. Broadway's frenetic razzle-dazzle has not interested him a whit, nor has he ever been seen in the usual haunts of former champions.

He frequently attends the theatre, and his choice runs to serious dramas. Flappers hold no charm for him. If he appears in public with a feminine companion she is one of a sedate and intellectual sort. And he continues to

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

Lots of folks laugh at germs and there are a few doctors left who scorn the germ theory in disease. But if any thoughtful person will study the statistics of disease, he must admit that something has happened to make certain ailments much less common.

We used to hear a lot about erysipelas. It was found in every neighborhood. This is not the case at present. This is one of the diseases we rarely see any more.

We have learned that cuts and scratches must be protected from infection with the germ of pus production. All wounds must be properly cared for or trouble follows. The germs of erysipelas, for instance, are among the troubles which can reach the body through a cut or any sort of a skin abrasion.

Erysipelas starts like several other infectious diseases with a chill and vomiting. Sometimes there are convulsions first and then high fever. The victim complains of a feeling of illness, pains in the back and legs, and headache. The bowels are disturbed and the tongue is coated.

Shortly after the chill the skin shows the peculiar reaction of erysipelas. First there may be several red spots which run together into a single swollen, red and shining area. It is characteristic of this disease to have the boundaries of the area distinctly defined. The borders are as sharply drawn as the edges of a book.

The swollen part is hard and hot. The skin is tender to the touch and there are itching, burning and tingling sensations. In a few days blisters form on the swollen skin. In about a week the swelling grows less, but before the improvement begins there may be serious delirium, as well as great pain and real illness.

Many applications have been suggested for the control of the local symptoms. The most common remedy is ichthyl. This may be employed as a watery solution or as an ointment. If it is used in water it is

Do Unto Your Hands as You Would Have Them Do Unto You.
By Edna Wallace Hopper.

How many times it is said that a woman's hands betray her age. If this is true, start right now the pleasurable game of betraying your hands.

The real truth behind the saying is that your hands will be kind to you if you show them a little consideration. It is simple.

I know that my hands have responded marvelously to it. Every time I wash them, in my theatre dressing room or at the hotel, I promptly counteract the effect of soap and water by rubbing on briskly my Youth Hand Lotion.

This is a wonderful treat to the skin. Even the faintest application will show you. Your skin will absorb the lotion as quickly as a plant consumes moisture after the rainfall. It leaves your hands smooth and dry, and you can put on gloves immediately after using. Soft, white, lovely hands will be yours. You will realize how much your skin needs this soothing attention.

Always keep a bottle on your dressing table or bath room shelf. And most of all you need one where you work—whether your daily tasks are in the home or elsewhere.

Our favorite recipe
Sliced
Strawberry Jam

Every woman knows that the longer fruit is boiled the more its bright color darkens and its delicate, fresh flavor drifts away in steam.

That is why the new short-boil method of making jams and jellies with Certo delights so many women.

The following easy recipe makes the finest strawberry jam you have ever tasted. Two quarts of berries will make ten eight-ounce glasses of jam.

Cut in halves lengthwise with stainless knife about 2 quarts of small or medium sized fully ripe berries. Large berries should be quartered.

After slicing, weigh out 2 lbs. berries; or, measure, 4½ level cups, packing solidly into the cup until juice and fruit come to top of cup. Add 7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar and mix well.

Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 3 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in ½ cup Certo. Skim and stir constantly for just 5 minutes after taking from fire to cool slightly, which prevents fruit floating. Then pour quickly and cover hot jam at once with hot paraffin wax. (This recipe, as well as recipes for crushed and whole fruit Strawberry Jam are in the book of recipes which comes under the label of each bottle of Certo.)

Certo is the natural substance in fruit which causes it to jell. It has been extracted from fruit, refined and bottled so that you may use it to make all your fruits jell perfectly without the old-fashioned, tedious and uncertain long "boiling down."

Get Certo from your grocer. A book of simple, tested recipes for nearly 100 delicious jams, jellies and marmalades comes under the label of each bottle.

Recommended by

Miss Alice Bradley, Principal, Miss Farmer's School of Cookery and Cooking Editor, Woman's Home Companion, says—

"I earnestly advise all housewives to get a bottle of Certo and try out one of the recipes. One trial will convince you that the best way to make jams and jellies is 'The Certo Way.'"

Cute in a Baby-Awful at Three—and it's Dangerous—

by Ruth Brittain

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it hangs on until fifteen or sixteen! The habit may cause an ill-formed mouth or induce adenoids; and it always interferes with digestion. Planning the sleeve over the hand; attaching mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over 30 years. With each package, you get a valuable book on Motherhood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

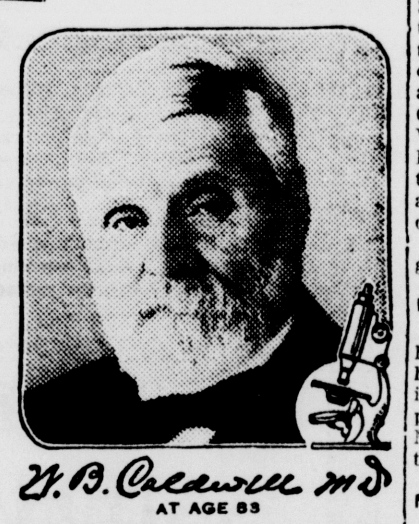

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his calls were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with Pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice, now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, one one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

While women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr.

J. C. Caldwell M.D.
AT AGE 83

Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, it is promptly effective on the most robust constitution. It is mild and gentle in its action and does not cause griping and strain. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it willingly.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home—where many live someone is sure to need it quickly.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

State Senator Lewis Is Memorial Speaker

Ohio Solon Discusses "Results of War on Civilization"; Rev. E. J. Gracey Speaker at Flag-raising.

Wellsville citizens yesterday paid homage to their war heroes—living and dead—in Memorial day exercises at the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument, Fourth street and Riverside avenue, and at Spring Hill cemetery.

The exercises at Spring Hill cemetery, closing the Memorial program, were concluded just a few minutes before a heavy downpour of rain swept the city.

Senator Earl Lewis, of St. Clairsville, the principal speaker at the cemetery ceremonies, delivered a short address on the theme, "Results of War on Civilization." Detailing to some extent the horrors of war, he urged that unending peace forever be the nation's goal. He lauded veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and Mexican wars, and asserted that no honors were too great for those who fought and bled on foreign battle fields during the world conflict.

The exercises opened with prayer by Rev. D. E. Young, pastor of the First Christian church, followed by the song, "America," by the assembly. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read by E. T. Fogo prior to Senator Lewis' address.

The customary G. A. R. service was followed by benediction by Rev. A. A. Reavley, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, and the decoration of soldiers' graves by the G. A. R. Sons of Veterans, American Legion and school children.

More than 500 gathered around the plot in the cemetery where the ceremonies were staged.

Tribute was paid to "Old Glory" and the men who had followed in its wake on land and sea through the nation's history, by Rev. Edward J. Gracey, pastor of the Immaculate Conception church, during the flag-raising exercises at the monument in Riverside avenue and Fourth street.

The flag was raised by P. W. McKenzie, Civil war veteran.

These services were followed by the march to the cemetery in which ex-service men, citizens, city officials, school children, G. A. R., Women's Relief Corps and the Legion auxiliary took part.

After the dinner, served to 100 by the ladies of the church, the club and their guests adjourned to the Presbyterian church, where the program was in charge of Rev. R. S. Wilson.

Scene from "The Jazz Singer" starring Al Jolson with May McAvoy — A Warner Bros. Production

At the Ceramic theatre one solid week starting Friday, with Vitaphone accompaniment.

Amusements

"THE JAZZ SINGER" RIN-TIN-TIN HERE TOMORROW AT AMERICAN

The long awaited presentation by Warner Bros. of "The Jazz Singer," the Vitaphone picture starring Al Jolson, now the leading motion picture success in New York at the Warner theatre, will open a week's engagement at the Ceramic theatre tomorrow.

Vitaphone, the most startling development in motion pictures yet offered to the public, synchronizes, perfectly voice and music with the action of the motion picture screen. By this marvel of the century, human in its accomplishments, you will be able to see and hear with lifelike fidelity, the greatest artists and performers of the opera, stage and concert, on one program; impossible to be assembled under any other conditions in the history of the theatre.

This picturization of Samson Raphaelson's comedy drama is made doubly important in that it marks the screen debut of Al Jolson, the most famous entertainer in the world. The production which Warner Bros. assembled for the projection of Al Jolson as the son of the cantor who ran away from home and became a famous jazz singer was given so much care, thought and lavish attention it is considered the supreme achievement of the list of fine pictures made by this able firm of producers. Alan Crossland directed.

The great cast surrounding Jolson in "The Jazz Singer," with dainty May McAvoy in the part of Mary Dale, Warner Oland as the cantor, and Eugene Bessner as the mother, includes also Otto Lederer, Bobby Gordon, Nat Carr and Richard Tucker.

TAXI DRIVER CONFESSES HE STRANGLERED TOT

C. J. Hoppe Held in Fiendish Crime at Toledo.
AWAITS HEARING
Blames Liquor; Assigns
No Reason for Killing.

TOLEDO, O., May 31.—Pleading not guilty to a formal charge of first degree murder, Charles J. Hoppe, 26, Toledo taxi driver this morning was held to the Lucas county grand jury without bond. Hoppe, according to police, last night confessed he had kidnapped seven-year-old Dorothy Sielagowski, as she slept in her father's home, and strangled her after a criminal assault.

TOLEDO, O., May 31.—Charles J. Hoppe, 26, Toledo taxi driver, married and father of a one-year-old child, is held today pending arraignment following his confession to police that he kidnapped and strangled 7-year-old Dorothy Sielagowski early Tuesday morning. He was taken for questioning at 11 o'clock Tuesday night.

According to his signed statement reported by police, he had become intoxicated with liquor obtained at the wedding of a neighbor and was unable to assign any reason for the killing. Recollections of the slaying were vague, his statement said.

Police said they attached suspicion to Hoppe because he and his wife formerly roomed at the home of Alex Sielagowski, father of Dorothy, and because his description tallied with the data gathered of a "man dressed in black with a missing front tooth."

Mutilated His Victim.
The dark suit and a shirt, spotted with tell-tale blood stains was discovered by detectives in a fresh dry hole in the rear of Hoppe's home.

Hoppe broke down when confronted with the clothing and a plaster cast of his own teeth which police said fitted exactly in the marks on the body of the victim.

After mutilating and choking the girl, the statement said according to police, Hoppe took the body and threw it upon the front porch of the home of Joseph Skibinski, uncle of the girl. The Skibinski house is across the street from the Sielagowski home.

Accused is Ex-convict.
Hoppe's wife, Sophia, 22, told police that she suspected something was wrong when her husband returned about 4:30 o'clock in the morning with bloodstains on his clothing, but said that he told her that he had been fighting. Mrs. Hoppe is a cousin of the murdered girl.

The confession ended an extensive man-hunt in which the entire police department and many citizens participated. Discovery that the girl's assailant had a missing tooth, that he had returned home late Tuesday morning and that he and his wife had been roomers at the Sielagowski home, combined to lead to the arrest of Hoppe.

Hoppe, police say, has a prison record and is now on parole from the Ohio State penitentiary. He had been sentenced for auto stealing, police declare.
According to the statement police reported that Hoppe went to the wedding Monday night, and left early Tuesday morning after he had been drinking heavily. He went to the garage of Stanley Sielagowski, uncle of the slain girl, and took his touring car.

Struck Girl Twice.
He drove the car around police said until he ran out of gas near the Willys-Overland plant. He then, according to police, picked out the sedan used in the murder from a parking space nearby.

Police declare that Hoppe said that he next went to the Sielagowski home in search of more liquor. He opened the door by means of a hole in the screen and after failing to find liquor in the cellar, police say he wandered to the front of the house and finally to the rear bedroom.

There, Hoppe admitted according to police, he saw Dorothy sleeping. He picked her up, police declare and carried her out of the house. When the child began to make a noise, Hoppe is said to have admitted to police, he struck her in the face until she became quiet.

He told the police that he placed the unconscious girl in the back seat of the sedan and drove away. When he stopped the car again, Hoppe said according to police, the girl began to cry again so he hit her again.

Find Tell-tale Handkerchief.
Police declare Hoppe then admitted he abused and mutilated the girl. After this police say Hoppe said he drove to the Skibinski home and placed the body on the front porch. He then told police that he drove to Weber and Maple streets and abandoned the car where it was found Tuesday morning, the interior splattered with blood.

Hoppe told police that he wiped some of the blood from his hands with a handkerchief and threw it in an alley. Police say they found the handkerchief yesterday morning, thereby adding more incriminating evidence.
Police say Hoppe told them that he was nervous when he arrived home and took a big drink of whiskey he had there. He told police that as he undressed he noticed there were blood stains on his clothing so he burned some of them in the back yard.

Mrs. Hoppe told police that she read in the paper the next morning of her relative's murder. She said that she remarked to her husband that there were some policemen in the neighborhood.
Hoppe then hurried to bury his suit and cap under the house, his wife told police.

DEATH ROLL

John G. Houlette.
John G. Houlette, 40, merchant, died today in his home at New Waterford, after a two weeks' illness of blood poisoning.

HOLD MOTORIST AFTER CRASH

Edward C. Garside is Charged With Man-
slaughter.

LISBON, O., May 31.—As an aftermath of the death of Frank W. Ferguson, 58, owner of a general store at New Waterford, who succumbed in the Central clinic, Salem, Sunday afternoon, from injuries received in an automobile crash, Edward C. Garside, a mail carrier and automobile dealer at East Palestine, had been today held under $5,000 bond for grand jury action on a charge of manslaughter.

An affidavit against Garside, filed before Justice M. K. Zimmerman at Lisbon, was served by Constable Clarence Wetzel. Garside entered a plea of not guilty and waived a hearing.
An automobile driven by Garside and one in charge of Ferguson collided on the Columbus-New Waterford road last Saturday night, and both machines were destroyed by fire. Ferguson was badly burned before he was extricated from his car.

20,000 VISIT ROCK SPRINGS

Record Crowd Visits
Chester Resort on Holiday.

A crowd estimated by park officials to number between 20,000 and 25,000 persons, jammed Rock Springs park, at Chester, yesterday.

The visitors came by street car, automobile and by boat. The excursion steamer Homer Smith brought 2,400 from the Pittsburgh and Rochester districts. The boat arrived at 1 o'clock and left on the return trip at 6 o'clock.

A three minute street car service was maintained on the Chester division during the afternoon and evening. Parking space inside the park gates and at the Sixth street and main park entrance was at a premium throughout the day. Streets in the vicinity of the park were also jammed.

Despite the crowd not an accident of any kind was reported.
Capacity crowds attended both the afternoon and evening dances at Virginia Gardens. A fireworks display was presented at 10:30 o'clock last night.

FESS SEEKS RE-ELECTION

COLUMBUS, O., May 31.—U. S. Senator Simeon D. Fess, Yellow Springs Republican, Ohio's senior member of the upper house, today filed with Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown his official declaration as a candidate to succeed himself for the full six-year term beginning March 4, 1929.

His candidacy, subject to nomination at the Ohio G. O. P. primary on August 14, next, was endorsed by Nicholas Longworth, Cincinnati, speaker of the U. S. house of representatives, and by Congressmen John G. Cooper, Youngstown; C. Ellis Moore, Cambridge; William M. Morgan, Newark, and B. Frank Murphy, Steubenville, all of whom signed his declaration.

Fess, who is serving his first term in the U. S. senate, is a former president of Antioch college, Yellow Springs, Greene county. He was chairman at the last Ohio Republican convention and is scheduled to deliver the "keynote" speech at the Republican National convention at Kansas City next month as temporary chairman.

SALESMAN, COP CLASH; BOTH TO FACE COURT

Patrolman Roth Uses
Mace on J. C. B.
Beatty.

DEFER HEARING
Charges Filed at Calcutta Against Policeman.

Pleading not guilty to charges of disorderly conduct upon arraignment before Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today, James C. B. Beatty, pottery sales manager, arrested by Patrolman Herman Roth, in an uptown store Tuesday night, will be given a hearing at 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning. His cash bond of $25, posted by his son Newton Beatty, following his arrest, was held for his appearance.

Patrolman Roth faces charges of assault and battery with intent to kill, filed in the court of Justice William Calvin, of St. Clair township, early Wednesday morning by Beatty. Constable Lawrence Chamberlain served the warrant on Roth in the Diamond early Wednesday morning, but Roth told Chamberlain to return the warrant to Calvin and advise him that the St. Clair township justice had "no jurisdiction within the city of East Liverpool."

Beatty's arrest at 10:45 o'clock Tuesday night followed, it is said, a visit at the police booth in the Diamond earlier in the evening. Roth claims that Beatty entered the police booth and called him a vile name. He ordered Beatty from the booth, he asserts, and Beatty crossed the street to a store. Beatty claims that he was crossing the Diamond to the store when Roth threatened to arrest him.

A few minutes later Roth said he crossed to the store and as he opened the door Beatty called him another name. He said he told Beatty that he was under arrest and that the prisoner defied him. The officer said that he tripped Beatty throwing him to the floor. Beatty, according to Roth, while on the floor kicked and shouted. Roth then says he (Roth) "tapped" Beatty on the head with his mace. The patrolman then handcuffed Beatty, claiming the prisoner refused to stand up. Beatty was dragged through the door to the sidewalk, where he arose. The patrol was called for the trip to the city jail.

Beatty's story of the trouble differs from that of the policeman. He claims that he was taking a drink at the soda fountain counter in the store when he was struck from behind. He says that he remembers nothing further until he was being searched at the city hall. After he was locked in jail he said that he discovered a cut about an inch in length on the top of his head, caused, he claims, when struck by the police officer's club.

Roth said he filed three charges, drunkenness, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct by using profane language, against Beatty. The charges, of intoxication and resisting arrest were not read in court. Beatty denied he was drunk.

Immediately after being released shortly after midnight, Beatty went to Calcutta where he signed the affidavit against Roth. He said today that two other charges would be filed against Roth but refused to divulge the nature of the complaints or before whom they would be filed. He was represented by no attorney at the city hall this morning, but requested a postponement until Tuesday as he was "busy."

Solicitor Frank Hoover this morning backed up the claim of Patrolman Roth that outside justices had no jurisdiction within the city limits of East Liverpool under the provisions of the municipal court act except in liquor cases. He said that the common pleas and probate courts could issue warrants for violation of a certain character within the city.

Van Orman's Leg Fractured.
Lieut. Van Orman's left leg was fractured, according to word from Westmoreland hospital, Greensburg, where he was taken. Physicians also feared possible internal injuries. Race headquarters learned that he reached from the Goodyear when the bag struck a coal tippie.

Morton leaped to his death at the same time. Cooper sustained shock and slight burns, and attaches at Westmoreland hospital thought he may also have sustained internal injuries.

Of the thirteen balloons which were forced out of the race, the Navy No. 13 travelled the longest distance, about 20 miles from McKeesport in a direct line.

American Business Club, Akron, landed at Banning, 18 miles; City of Cleveland and Army No. 3 at Youngwood 14 miles; Detroit No. 4, Middletown, 12 miles, and the others all landed within a shorter radius.

MOB KILLS TWO IN BELGRADE

Sixty-nine Others Injured During Night of Terror.

VIENNA, May 31.—Belgrade passed through a night of terror with terrific anti-Italian rioting in which at least two persons were killed and 69 others, including nine policemen, were seriously wounded, said advices from that city today. Hundreds were slightly hurt. Sixty arrests were made. Streets were barricaded and gun battles between rioters and police raged in several parts of the city.

The inner quarter of the city was like a battlefield. Many shops and safes were demolished and the furniture carried into the streets for the erection of barricades.

The population is embittered against the government and police because of their passive attitude in the face of the note presented by Italian Minister Bodrero demanding satisfaction and damages without mentioning the anti-Jugoslav demonstrations in Italy.

Anti-Italian demonstrations have been in progress throughout Dalmatia for several days. It is reported that 25 Italian shops were wrecked at Svaluto. Italian shipping offices were destroyed and Italian vessels in the harbor plundered.

Husbands take warning.
Married life has become uncertain, even for those that thought themselves safest.

FARMERS, who wonder why their McNary-Haugen bill was vetoed, might wonder about other things. For instance, Canadian railroad commissioners, lowering freight rates on wheat, give the Canadian farmer an advantage of 8 to 10 cents a bushel over our farmers in the world's markets.

MEANTIME, Senator Capper prints in big type "THE RAILROAD RELIEF ACT WORKS FINE. IT HAS PUT THE ROADS ON THEIR FEET AND ALL THE FARMING THEY HAVE TO DO IS OCCASIONALLY TO RAISE THE RATES."

HENRY FORD says "What's the use of talking about any limit to United States development?"

"I for one, can scarcely see more than a beginning here and there."

That's how healthy business minds feel about it.

James Speer puts it briefly: "Prosperity is our NORMAL CONDITION, nothing will interfere with it but foolishness."

American gold is going to Europe rapidly. If we are too careless our large supplies will drift across the water.

London is drawing gold STEADILY, which puts up British exchange. The Bank of France has added $220,000,000 in gold to its reserve this year.

In addition, Americans traveling abroad leave a thousand millions a year in gold money behind them.

We helped our foreign friends to finance their big war and now we are helping them recover from it.

WHOM would you suggest for Vice President on the Republican ticket? How would you go about selecting him?

New York's Business Men's league suggests Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. His father accepted the vice presidency against his will, complaining "I am being sidetracked." It turned out to be quite a conspicuous "side track."

Governor Lowden is said to have declined the vice presidency when Harding was elected. Had he accepted, he would be president now.

Mrs. Edwin Thomas and son John have returned to their home in Park boulevard after a month's visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. H. Hartstuf, in Braddock, Pa. They were accompanied by Mr. Thomas who spent the week-end in Braddock.

Candidate for Attorney General is Guest at Noon Luncheon Here.

A government is not living up to its purpose "when more is collected in taxes than is service rendered in return" John W. Bricker, Columbus attorney and candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney-general, told an audience of approximately 50 members of the Kiwanis club and their guests at the club's weekly luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel grill, East Fourth street, at the noon-hour today.

Bricker, who was a special counsel in the office of Attorney General C. C. Crabb for about three and one half years, was introduced by President Ralph Couch. Special musical numbers were rendered by a brass sextet, composed of six high school girls. The sextet consisted of Misses Jean Langfitt, Ruth Meador, Alda Case, Hilda Manypenny, Marcella Miller and Mary Louise Bergner. Miss Helen Woessner was the accompanist.

Bricker said:
"The capacity to gather new data and to acquire knowledge has been greater in this generation than the ability to use that data and turn that knowledge to the betterment of social conditions. Likewise, since the war, experiments in government have been piled up so fast and changes have been so rapid that it is difficult to ascertain whether or not the knowledge of government and the experiences of this generation in public affairs have been utilized to the benefit of the greatest number of people."

"In the past congress, approximately one hundred efforts were made to amend the federal constitution; thousands of bills were introduced and hundreds passed. Add to this the hundreds of thousands enacted by the state legislatures, ordinances by municipal councils and orders and resolutions issued out of every commission and board in their administrative capacity and we can appreciate why the public generally has a confused notion of law and why we are confronted with a disrespect for law in some quarters, and numerous violations."

"In the past 50 years there has been a decided tendency in the matter of legislation to a more democratic government in America; and in matters of administration there has been a decided trend towards bureaucracy."

"Independent boards and commissions are vested with unlimited power to regulate the conduct of individuals and supervise the manner of business until today about one in every 20 of our citizenship is employed by some department of the state or federal government."

"The government both nationally and in the states is doing great things in big ways and in many respects wholly to the good of the citizenship, but charged with opportunity as this, today is, it is fraught with danger. This great growth and increase of government power has brought evils and must be guarded for the protection of the individual citizen."

"People are not born to be governed but to live. Property is not protected and property right established for the purpose of taxation but that people might enjoy the same. Business is not established and conducted for the purpose of being supervised, directed and detested by some governmental authority but that people might enjoy more of the material benefits which have been given us that we might have more of the good things of life. In fact the reason for government is that people live more abundantly and when government fails in that regard for betterment and for a larger voice in the affairs of government by purpose there is a demand for change a great mass of the people."

"When there is more collected in taxes than there is service rendered in return thereof, when there are more rights and liberties taken from the people than there are privileges given in compensation thereof, the government is not living up to its best purpose as we understand it is in this country."

"All of this raises many questions as to our state, taxation; the future power of boards and commissions whether it shall be extended or curbed and guarded; should the state completely dominate the smaller units of government; or should there be a re-establishment of local self government and what shall be the power and responsibility of political parties in this new and complicated industrial age."

"An active, intelligent and interested public alone can assure a proper determination of these matters."

PEKIN'S FALL IS IMMINENT

Nationalists Seize Key
City; Foes Retreat.

LONDON, May 31.—The fall of Peking appears imminent today, a dispatch to the Daily Mail from the Chinese capital stated.

The Nationalists have captured Peking, the key city to Peking, 85 miles to the south. The northerners are reported to be retreating in a disorderly fashion.

Merchants in Peking, fearing that looting will be inevitable when the invasion of the city occurs are banding together and barricading their valuables. Foreigners are reported to be shifting their belongings to the comparative safety of the consulates.

The northerners are being hemmed in from three sides by the southern armies. More than one hundred thousand southern troops are reported to have crossed the Yellow river west of Tainan Fu. They are now believed to be advancing towards Peking.

World Peace Urged

The First United Presbyterian church, read Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Solo numbers were rendered by little Beulah May Torrence and George Esenbuth. The ritualistic ceremonies of the Grand Army of the Republic, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars were carried out under the direction of the post officers. Three volleys of shots from a 16-piece gun squad and taps by buglers ended the exercises.

Text of Address.
Dr. Hawkins said:
"The spirit in which veterans of all wars have united in this Memorial Day observance, and the place and part taken by city officials, fraternal orders, Boy Scouts, musicians and people of the community in general speaks well for East Liverpool, and augurs well for our country in the days that are ahead. The custom of memorializing the dead is an ancient one. The practice of these memory acts grew with civilization until they flowered beautifully in our Memorial day."

"Two years after the Civil war, the women of Columbus, Miss., strewed flowers alike on the graves of Confederate and National soldiers. The incident inspired Francis Miles Finch to write his immortal lyric, 'The Blue and the Gray,' which has become the credo of the festival. Chauncey M. Depew made a famous address in which he related the occurrence. In 1868 National Commander John A. Logan of the Grand Army of the Republic issued an order which named May 30, 1868, for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village or hamlet church yard in the land. It is the purpose of the commander-in-chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of the departed."

School of Patriotism.
"The day with its observance has been a school of patriotism for 60 years."

"To us it is, first, a gratitude day for looking back, and second, an incentive day for looking forward. It is our privilege first to lay on their graves an obligation of love and a pardonable pride. We are worthy proud that we had such fathers and grandfathers and later sons and brothers who dared to venture forth with Christ in a holy warfare."

"After the backward look, the love and the gratitude, the hushed thrill and the pained charm that pervades the occasion, let us open our minds to the flood of incentive those sacrificing men would have us receive—the only flaming thought with which they would spur us as we stand at their graves. Dare we be small when we think of their bigness? Dare we meet the problems of our day with less strength of character and sacrifice than they? Ours is a wonderful age. Yet never was there an age so suspended between progression and retrogression, light and darkness, idealism and materialism, as ours. It is ours to determine whether we are to have a war-free world and earthly paradise, or a plunge back into the blackness of the uncivilized state. Shall we catch the torch from the aged hands of this too rapidly passing army and carry it aloft determinedly or shall we allow greed, industrial misunderstanding, anarchy and a smug materialism to obliterate what they and other noble armies that have fought under our flag have won for us?"

Services on Bridge.
Dr. Warren O. Hawkins, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, was the principal speaker at Memorial services in honor of sailor and marine dead which were conducted by the Ladies of the G. A. R. on the Chester-East Liverpool bridge at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Flowers were scattered upon the waters of the Ohio river by 16 girls. Master Harry Herbert led the procession, taps being sounded by a bugler. Members of the G. A. R. were taken to the exercises in automobiles.

Rev. W. H. Baker delivered the opening prayer, while Rev. Frederic A. Dean made the closing prayer.

RUSSIAN CALL

Swedish Planes Will Aid in Search for Nobile.

MANILA, May 31.—"Nobile, we heard your transmitter on about thirty meters. Please go ahead."

This message, intercepted by the coast artillery wireless station here, revived faint hopes today that General Nobile and the crew of the dirigible Italia are safe. Its call letters indicated that it came from a station at Vladivostok. The message was so faint that the operator could hardly decode it.

Although radio stations here kept a close watch for hours after receipt of the message, no further messages of similar character were intercepted.
LONDON, May 31.—Swedish naval seaplanes will be put at the disposal of the Norwegian government which is directing the dramatic search through the stormy Arctic for Gen. Umberto Nobile and his 17 companions, said a dispatch from Oslo today. Capt. Thorsborg of the Swedish air force, was due at Oslo today to confer upon plans for the international search.

A steamship will leave Bergen tomorrow with Capt. Hjalmar Risler-Larsen, Norwegian explorer, on board. He is going to King's Bay to assist in the hunt.

While a Russian ice breaker is reported pounding her way through the floes off Archangel with a seaplane on board, the Italian supply ship Citta di Milano is at King's Bay being prepared for another attempt to battle her way northward through storm and ice in an effort to find the missing explorers.

The steamship Hobby with a Norwegian seaplane on board is nearing King's Bay.

Moscow Denies Call.
MOSCOW, May 31.—Report from Manila that the radio station at Vladivostok had picked up a wireless help call from the Italia was denied today by the president of the Radio Friends association. This association is coordinating and directing the efforts of the naval and amateur radio stations to locate the missing Italia and its crew of explorers.

Terrific snow storms are raging over the Arctic and off the Siberian coast.

Soviet officials are certain that the Italia could not remain in the air under present conditions.

College Golf Stars Ready For Title Tilt

Gunn and Mackenzie Face Real Competition.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Judging from the type of golf being played in the Eastern colleges this season and the character of the entries for the annual championship fixture, there will be large and luscious dollops at the Apawamis near Rye, N. Y., when the intercollegiate championship field goes to the post on June 26. Watts

Gunn, George Tech. and Roland Mackenzie, Brown university, annual Walker Cup members nowadays, dominated the individual championship but there will be more and possibly better contenders this time. Of course, if Gunn reels off nine such holes as he played to the turn against Mackenzie in the 1927 finals, the grim, little Georgian will retain his title no matter who is to face him. But even Gunn doesn't figure to repeat such a performance and some of the men out against him this year rate among the best in the land.

Calls For Class.

Indeed, few championships, outside the national fixtures, will call forth more real class than will this event for college men. Mackenzie may not be eligible because he left Brown temporarily to visit Guy Standifer in the northwest, but even if Roland is out, there is at least a couple of eligible newcomers who may more than make up for his absence. They are Phillips Finlay and Eugene V. Homans, interscholastic champion and runner up respectively in 1927. Finlay is a freshman at Harvard while Homans recently entered Princeton, where his father, "Shep" Homans was a contemporary of the illustrious "Snake" Ames.

Speaking of the latter, his son, John Ames, is president of the Intercollegiate Golf Association and, in that role, is managing the Apawamis event. Finlay and Homans are regarded as embryonic Bobby Joneses of the juvenile field and neither is without his triumphs among the big timers. For nearly the entire day, Finlay led Jones, Ouimet, Evans, Gunn, Von Elm and all the big ones through the first 18 holes of the qualifying round at the last national amateur.

He finally was beaten for this temporary honor by a late starter. The latter was his friend and rival, Homans. Both showed to some advantage in match play in the championship, too.

Another likely candidate for college honors is Maurice McCarthy, now a sophomore at Georgetown. Maurice will be remembered as the lad who led the great Jones by 2 up in the championship and didn't succumb to Bobby until the final green. Captain Landman, of Yale, is another good one, as Gunn will attest. He defeated Watts at 18 holes in the recent Yale-Georgia Tech team match.

All in all, Gunn probably is making up his mind to a rather hectic five days of it when he lays his title on the line at Apawamis.

Torrid Panama City is to have its first ice cream and orange crush plant this summer.

Tree Disease is Sweeping Forests Of Great Britain

EDINBURGH.—A deadly tree disease which is feared will wipe out many of Great Britain's most beautiful evergreen trees, is sweeping through the forests of England and Scotland, and naturalists are making every effort to check its devastating course.

According to Dr. Malcolm Wilson of Edinburgh University, the disease, known as rhabdoclin, first reached Scotland with a consignment of Douglas firs from Montana a few years ago. After a long quiescence, the disease has now taken root, according to Dr. Wilson, and is sweeping across the south of England with such rapidity that experts are baffled and almost helpless.

The disease first attacks the leaves. Fungus spore gathers, usually on the under side of the leaf, and as the wind wafts the leaves its carries with it millions of fungus spore. The leaves die, and within three or four years the tree is entirely denuded, and it dies also.

LONDON.—Four lions were killed with four shots fired in the bag of pretty Mrs. Madia Foljambe, who has returned to her home at Workson, Nottinghamshire, after seven weeks' big-game expedition in Africa with her A rhinoceros, several buffalo and antelopes, and nearly a score large snakes also fell to her rifle.

Do you know the cause of piles is internal? That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is an internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, sold by Mathews Original Cut Rate and all druggists with guarantee of money back if it fails?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause—stagnation of blood in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation.

TWO HEROES OF "THE LOST CAUSE"

JOHNNY REB donned again the old gray uniform which he wore when he was making history by his gallant stand against the forces of the Union and participates in Confederate Memorial Day exercises at the graves of his fallen comrades. The old butternut uniforms are fast disappearing now, and the holiday ceremonies take on an added note of pathos because of this.

Solution of Lead Being Used for Cancer Treatment

CHICAGO.—A solution of lead as a cure for cancer may be a reality in the near future, declared Dr. W. T. Pettit of Ottawa, Ill., in an address before the radiology section of the Illinois State Medical society.

"Lead, it has already been demonstrated, has an affinity for cancer cells," Dr. Pettit said. "Use of the metal in cases of persons believed hopelessly ill has brought cures to 20 per cent. of the victims treated at the University of Liverpool."

The present task of science, according to Dr. Pettit, is to find the proper solution of the metal.

Dr. Pettit recently returned from a trip to Europe where he visited several noted cancer clinics.

BEAUTY EXPERTS SAY STYLISH WOMEN MUST WEAR LONGER HAIR

COLUMBUS, O.—Milady will wear her hair longer during the coming season.

This was the edict of hairdressing experts who gathered in Columbus to demonstrate the "last word" in hair dressing styles to Ohio beauty operators.

The boyish bob is now passe, they all agreed. Hair will be worn in lengths carrying from half way between the ear and shoulder lengths. While hair will be longer, the modern woman will not wear long hair, they emphasized.

"Long hair will never come back," one beauty specialist said. "Women today demand a quick but effective toilet before going out in public or to a party."

Fluff It Up.

"They want to be able to wet a comb and run it through their hair, fluff it up with their fingers and be ready to be on their way. It cannot be done with long hair, and then long hair is uncomfortable and too much trouble."

There is a tendency to let the hair grow longer because the boyish bob gave women no individuality, they said. All women in short haircuts and permanent waves look alike save for their dresses. They lack that individuality that they all crave, was their claim.

Longer hair gives women a chance to dress their heads to suit the contours of their face and shape of their heads. This gives them individuality and a distinguishing feature from other women.

The swirl bob is the last word in hairdressing. The hair is moderately short in back and the sides are waved into a swirl leading to the back. The fashionable young lady can wear it behind one ear, if she has unusually pretty external apparatus, or in the usual Tribby style. If one ear is exposed, a dab with rouge will set it off very colorfully.

Theatre and College.

Theatres and colleges dominate the influence that bends fashion in hairdressing to its will, most of the specialists admitted. A beautiful actress or movie star, appearing in a new style of haircut or hairdress usually finds a thousand of others following suit the next day because they have the idea that they have similar features and as their favorite actress, they said.

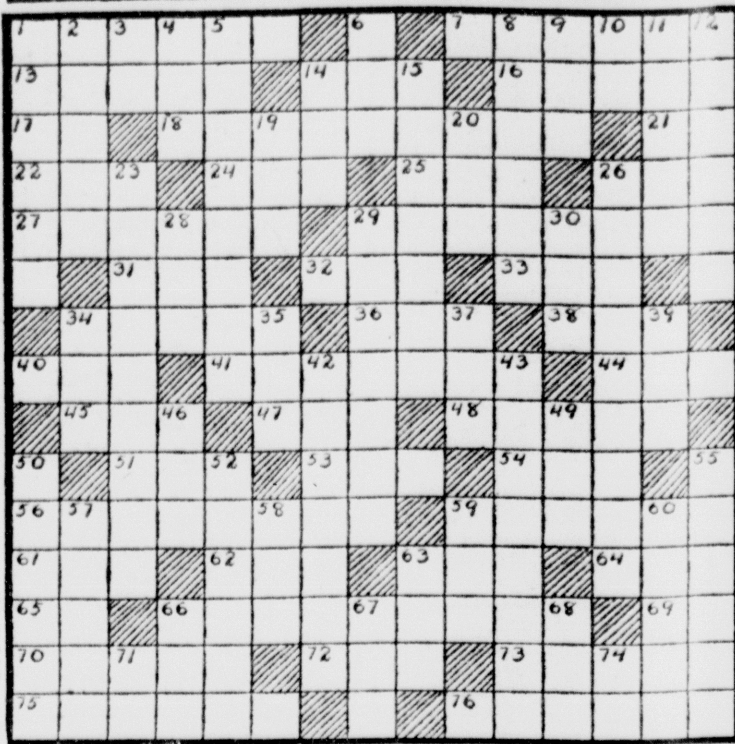

Co-eds at universities and finishing schools often start new styles when one of the most popular girls in a leading sorority accidentally or purposely finds a new way to do up her hair. A rush to the beauty parlor by her sorority sisters follows as a matter of course and then the popular young ladies of other schools pick it up when the girl with "it" set a bid at the next frat dance or Junior prom, they declared.

Plea for Modern Court Procedure Made in Palestine

JERUSALEM.—A plea for modern procedure in the Palestine courts located in districts bordering on the desert, where tribal courts continue to dispense a rough and ready justice has been entered for the townspeople of Beersheba. The petitioners say they are not wandering Bedouins and are entitled to better court arrangements than a crowded room with 18 judges listening and simultaneously arguing the case with one another, while the plaintiff, the accused and the witnesses squat tailor fashion on the floor.

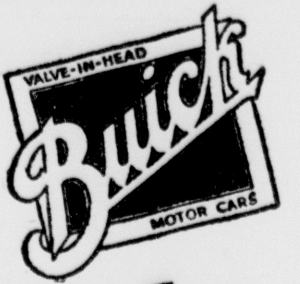

The people of Beersheba maintain also that cases cannot be tried without lawyers who are not allowed in the tribal courts governed by patriarchal custom.

Hudson Bridge to Take Rank With Old World Wonders

NEW YORK—Forty thousand tons of steel, enough to build ordinary skyscrapers have been purchased for the new Hudson river bridge, now being constructed at a cost of $25,000,000. It will be the world's greatest bridge and is the result of many years planning on the part of Othmar A. Ammann, who first began to dream of such a structure over the Hudson when he was a boy in Switzerland.

Ancient wonders of the world such as the Pharos, Egypt's great light-house whose fire was said to be visible for a thousand miles, and the Colossus of Rhodes, are out-classed by the towers which will support the structure, says The American Magazine. These towers, each 650 feet high, will be one-third higher than the Pharos and four times as high as the Colossus of Rhodes.

Ten million vehicles are expected to pass across the bridge in 1932, the first year it is completed. Its capacity will be 30,000,000 vehicles annually and trolley cars will be accommodated on its lower deck.

Thousands Blame Stomach for Gall Bladder Troubles

Right today, thousands of folks suffering with gas pains, indigestion, intestinal distress, constipation, headache, dizziness, pains and burning in the right side think they have stomach trouble when it really is a lazy liver, thickened bile, or gall bladder inflammation. Neglected, this most always leads to gallstones, and an operation, especially in middle life, if not checked now.

One of the finest things in the world for this condition is a new home treatment called Klax-Ko. It acts upon the liver, gall bladder, and intestinal tract. It stimulates the liver, and thins out the thickened bile. Also it assists in emptying the gall bladder and starts the bile flowing. If bile doesn't flow it stagnates in the gall bladder and the salts in it eventually crystallize and form gallstones.

You will be very grateful and surprisingly pleased at the great relief Klax-Ko brings. Quick relief from distress is seen and with steady use, which is necessary in this condition, welcome improvement daily is noticed. Don't go another day, constantly subjecting yourself to serious illness and possibly gallstones and an operation.

Klax-Ko is guaranteed to bring you the joyful relief you seek or money refunded. Obtain a 30-day treatment from Carnahan Drug Store or your own drugist today. Let it do for you what it has done for others.

4 Great Cars in 4 Price Fields

The President $1985 to $2485 F. O. B. FACTORY

100-horsepower straight eight motor
80-mile speed 131-inch wheelbase

Holds all official records for stock closed cars, regardless of power or price, from 5 to 2000 miles and from 1 to 24 hours.

The Commander $1435 to $1625 F. O. B. FACTORY

85-horsepower 72 miles per hour
World's Champion car—25,000 miles in less than 23,000 consecutive minutes. Nothing else on earth ever traveled so far so fast.

The Dictator $1195 to $1395 F. O. B. FACTORY

70-horsepower 65 miles per hour
5000 miles in less than 4800 consecutive minutes—a record for stock cars priced below $1400.

The Erskine $795 to $965 F. O. B. FACTORY

43-horsepower 62 miles per hour
Thrilling six-cylinder performance. 1000 miles in less than 1000 consecutive minutes—a record for stock cars priced below $1000.

STUDEBAKER has swept the boards! Every official speed and stamina record for fully equipped stock cars is held by Studebaker. Every Studebaker is a champion! Never before has any one manufacturer held all these records!

These remarkable records (listed at the left) offer clean-cut proof of speed, of stamina, of durability, certified officially by the American Automobile Association. Studebaker has proved these three vital qualities by heroic tests of strictly stock cars under unquestioned official sanction.

To you these repeated evidences of Studebaker endurance and speed are conclusive assurance of Studebaker's fitness to meet every demand of everyday motoring. Your Studebaker can give more than you will ever ask.

Studebaker's Championship is beyond dispute

Studebaker cars have proved beyond question their ability to travel great distances at sustained high speeds. No car except the Studebaker Commander ever came within 10,000 miles of The Commander's great record of 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes! No fully equipped closed car ever equalled The President Straight Eight's official records. No cars of their price classes ever traveled so far so fast as did The Dictator and The Erskine Six.

When such performance can be bought at Studebaker's remarkable One-Price prices, why be content with less than a champion?

40 miles per hour even when NEW!

Studebaker's sensational proofs of speed and endurance come from engineering genius, quality materials, precision manufacture and rigid inspections. Because of these, any Studebaker may safely be driven 40 miles an hour the day you buy it. Motor oil need be changed but once in 2500 miles. The President, Commander and Dictator require chassis lubrication only after each 2500 miles.

Today in Studebaker and in Studebaker alone, you can buy the utmost in every phase of motoring—and behind it a name that for 76 years has meant dependable transportation. Come in, and drive a champion!

CHAPTER 16.

It was late afternoon and three little girls were rushing along Main street.

Skirts flying high heels clicking, bare heads jerking with every dancing step. One head covered with tight black ringlets much as Stella Brent's had been once, a brown one clipped short like a boy's.

A head with hair like curling flame. People stared at this one—turned and stared again. Little, rounded face, all mischief; long, yellow eyes under long, dark lashes. Pale green dress short, so very short; wide, thin sleeves floating behind gracefully, strikingly, in the breeze of hurry.

Insouciance, an air of daring like a challenge about the small figure. And with it all a rare beauty drawing as a magnet.

Kathryn Day, called Kitten by those who loved her and thought long, anxious thoughts about her.

Dottie Brent and the forbidden Flossie Gaines.

Three girl-kids going out to meet adventure seeking it in unlikely places, all a-quiver with eagerness.

Three youngsters who considered life a bright thing to be tossed back and forth from one hand to the next.

"Look, Flor!" shiek in the big car. Oh, he's smiling. What d'you spose he's doing out all by himself?"

"It's the Norri! car—you know, that's their place up on South Mountain. Ten bathrooms, I heard. Prob'ly he's relative."

"Well, he's looking back—"

Giggles. Heads tossing, the black, the brown, the red. Three slender figures pausing before a window, picking out among the reflections there that of the big car. It was turning in the middle of the street, loitering along the curb. The "shiek" was leaning out, watching them intently.

"Well, for goodness' sake—"

"Oh, shut up, Kitten. It was you gave him the joyful eye."

Kitten drew herself up stiffly and turned a cold look upon the others. It was a scathing look of dignity.

"I'll thank you to remember I'm not that kind of a girl, if you'll please be so kind."

"Ho, any ole time! You hear that, Floss? Not that kind of a girl, oh, no! Little white sister, Kitten is, I guess maybe. Ho!"

The two put their arms around each other and screeched with laughter.

People stared.

Kitten picked up the vanity case which dangled from her wrist, snapped it open with a grand duchess manner, ran a wafer of lamb's wool over her pert nose. In the mirror she saw the big car halted; the driver still leaned out, watching.

"Well, come on if you're coming," she said.

They went into the ice-cream shop and found a table at the back where they ordered "Dream of Love" sundaes.

The boy who took their order bent over the table with a knowing leer. "Youse gals say sundaes? 'Cause they's other kinds of them dreams and I'm the lad knows 'em all."

Dottie and Flossie snickered but Kitten waved him away. "Small time," she remarked. "Don't waste your energy."

They settled down to conversation. "He says—" "I says—" "A fierce time getting out of the house any more. Folks that's snooty—" "Told mine if they didn't like it I'd leave—" "Oh, you've got orange lipstick? Let me try it—"

"Seen those black chiffon undies at the Specialty Shop?" This from Dottie. "Maybe I wouldn't like some! But Stell said she'd tell father about the night I climbed out the window—"

Flossie Gaines turned her eyes aside and half closed them in an expression infinitely blasé. "Stell better watch her own step if you want to believe what you hear."

"Yeah?" Dottie flushed angrily. "Guess 'at sounds good coming from you. What's the matter Floss—jealous?"

Red splashed the other girl's face and went creeping up under the short hair. Not so many months ago it was before her door the lemon-colored roadster stopped after dusk—always after dusk—and it was to her the horn blared its message.

Skeets Bradley played 'em young or not so young; it mattered little to him as long as there was variety.

Now there might have been high words and a scene had not Kitten interrupted quickly.

They faced about and three heads, the black, the brown, the red, drew together. The "shiek" was coming in from the front of the store; he was pausing at the counter sending a questioning look around.

"Well, of all the nerve—"

"Gash, he's a good looker. I like 'em dark and thin. Spose he's a Norris? Class, I guess!"

Kitten, who said nothing, was the one his glance picked out. He half smiled, snatched off his cap and came forward with a show of diffidence.

"Haven't I met you somewhere?" he asked softly, eyes on the flaming hair. "Seems I remember that mop."

"Why then?" he said laughing. "I'd ask if you didn't want to go for a little ride around. Fair enough isn't it?"

Dottie and Flossie squealed; Kitten's pose wasn't proof against the prospect of the big car. She flushed and stammered and he paid their bill as the four of them went rather awkwardly into the street.

Kitten rode beside him in front. Her friends kept up a chatter in the rear, waving at whomever they knew. But she had little to say.

Continually, however, she saw him watching her in the mirror above the windshield; once he reached over, but she snatched her hand away.

He drove out of Lyall and back into the country; before a low-lying and extremely ornate building set in the midst of a pretentious lawn he halted the car. This was Deep Valley Inn, a roadhouse noted for a set of fast-moving and high-stepping patrons.

"Want to drop in?" he asked, watching her face.

Shrieks of "Oh, let's!" from the back seat and doors being torn open. Kitten looked at the Inn, felt a little thrill of longing, another of caution. The last was stronger.

"How about it, Red-head?"

"Not today, Mr. Norris."

"Say, it ain't Norris! It's Lanier and the handle's Ted. Going to remember that till tomorrow when I see you again?"

"Who says so?"

"Your new boy-friend, Reddy."

"Any ole time—"

But she did promise to meet him. Not the next day but the one after, she said, when the other girls had gone and they were saying good-night a block away from home.

CHAPTER 17.

Kitten came in late that evening. Nearly nine o'clock—too late for her to say, lightly as usually she did, that she's been "just down the street."

Many times Emily had gone out to the road, looking anxiously up and down; many times she glanced at the telephone; once she picked up the receiver but put it back.

Who could give her any help in this? Not even Agnes who sat rocking placidly, ready to begin another long story of her early years with Steve.

When they came to the dinner table—white linen had replaced the red check but Agnes still cooked potatoes to their jackets and put the coffee-pot beside her plate—Emily glanced at her sister's vacant place but said nothing. Her mother didn't seem to notice it.

What, Emily asked herself, would Muz have done when she was Kitten's age—she was working then, but that made no difference—if she had gone out when she pleased and come in any time with no explanation?

And it wasn't only Muz who had changed; Lyall was different. One saw young kids like Kitten and Dottie Brent roaming the street at night, saying saucy, reckless things to the boys who halted them from the corners.

Blisters On Face Itched Terribly Cuticura Healed

"My trouble began with blisters that itched terribly. The part that was affected was my face. Later it took the form of large, red pimples, which after a couple of days would fester and scale over. They were scattered all over my face, and the itching and burning were so severe that I scratched them and caused eruptions. The irritation prevented me from sleeping. The trouble lasted from ten to twelve months.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and got relief, and was healed after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one large box of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Miss Emma Hardy, Deer Grove, Ill.
